BIO

Paulina Herrera Letelier (Chile, 1978) lives and works in Cagliari, Sardinia, Italia. Architect, designer, multimedia visual artist, her work focuses on the dynamic perception of the architectonic space and its environment, mixing materials and artisanal techniques. In 2018 she completed two artistic residencies, at Fondazione MACC (Sardinia) and at Progetto Borca (Veneto), and she had her first institutional show at Museo MACC in June 2018. She has won several regional and national awards, and her work is part of institutional and private collections. She is participating for the first time to an International Contemporary Art Fair.
